

The Huntington Beach News has adopted the following policy on information and disclosure for its website, www.hbnews.us and E-mail, hbnews@hb.quik.com.

When visiting this site, no information is collected or stored about you. Any information that you submit is not retained and is used solely to respond to your inquiry. We will not request any personal identifying information from you or require any passwords to use our website.

Any transmission that you make on the Internet is not secure. However, since we do not collect any information, we have no need for security beyond that necessary to maintain our sites.

Our website contains links to other sites offered by other parties. These links are provided for reference and convenience only. These other sites may have separate data and privacy practices independent of us. We do not have or accept any responsibility or liability for their policies or actions.

Any changes in this policy will be posted 30 days prior to the changes taking effect. Any information collected under the current policy will remain bound by the terms of the policy. After the changes take effect, all new information collected will be subject to the revised privacy policy.

If you have questions about this policy or think that the policy has been violated, contact hbnews@hb.quik.com. Also, you may call our office at 714-378-1243 or write to The Huntington Beach News, P.O. Box 228, Huntington Beach, CA 92648.